GIS and 911 Seminar May 29, 2013 - St. Louis, MO Washington University

WHY GIS AND 911?

It is vital for GIS and 911 personnel to continue working together. This workshop is for those with the responsibility of updating 911 systems and GIS data. This seminar will help build the foundation for understanding requirements, roles, responsibilities, and standards for present 911 systems and Next Generation 911.

Come together as a team! If you are responsible for GIS, bring your 911 person. If you are responsible for 911, bring your GIS person.

SEMINAR TOPICS

- -911 and GIS today
- -Developing communication between 911 and GIS professionals
- -Where is 911 going and what are the new GIS functions?
- -NENA GIS model for public safety
- -Roadmap to future GIS requirements
